

Summary

We had fine weather again today and made the most of it. Bill, Mike and Rod had all brought along some whips they had grown in their gardens, and they planted those in various parts of the wood, clearing space as appropriate. Altogether 13 oaks and 2 hawthorns were planted. The other main task was further dead-hedging towards the top of the western perimeter, using more donated posts to hold the material in place. As usual, we collected a load of litter.
